

At LadybugFlights we have always encouraged the participation of our readers. For that reason we have this space, a place where you can be heard. Nothing as formal as an article or a column... Just some venting, self-expression, or a chance to communicate what you are thinking on almost any topic. Send it to us and we will let you know if we can use it!

We always welcome comments about our contents, discussions should anyone care to comment on the comments...

Hi,

I just read "Should I talk to the Coach?" and felt offended at the wording of the question she suggested the child say to the coach. "What am I doing wrong." That assumes the child is wrong or doing something wrong. It may be the coaches problem. Oh, the self esteem issues. Maybe a better question is "How can I get more play time - what do I need to do?"

Dian